"In fact, you bear witness that you approve the deeds of your fathers; for they indeed killed them, and you build their tombs. Therefore the wisdom of God also said, 'I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they will kill and persecute,' that the blood of all the prophets which was shed from the foundation of the world may be required of this generation, "

Making Sundays Special

For those having trouble keeping track, it's Blursday
the fortyteenth of Mapriber.

I saw this cute meme the other day.
Maybe you saw it too:

Truly, these days do seem to blur together; one day is much the same as another. But Sunday is not just another day...it is the Lord's Day! And, while we have always known that Sundays are to be set apart and different from the other days of the week, if your family is like my family, we have struggled knowing what that looks like. Besides going to church...what do we really do to make Sundays stand apart?

Perhaps now, when we are self-isolating at home, is the time to reclaim Sundays as special! We can start precious new traditions for our families! Here are some ideas that might spark your imagination:

Attend church (Yes, the online version!) Let's not give up the habit because now is the time when it would be easy to do so.

Have a special family read aloud that you only read on Sundays. Some suggestions:

- Little Pilgrim's Progress
- A missionary biography (YWAM has some exciting ones)
- Check www.christianaudio.com for audio books that you can purchase at a reasonable price. They have an excellent selection of quality children's literature and you do not need a membership to buy a book.

Food! Food serves a special role in celebrations. Try serving the same favourite lunch every Sunday. For us that means chicken wraps! Or start Sunday morning with cinnamon buns. Or bake a yummy dessert that you eat on Sunday night. Perhaps you want to have a snack supper of popcorn, cheese, crackers, fruit and veggies while watching a family movie. Or make homemade pizzas.

Keep special art supplies, a box of toys or games that ONLY comes out on Sunday afternoons.

Acts of service: Can Sundays be a day you make cards for people? Call grandparents or friends? Check on neighbours?

Décor: There are so many lovely pieces of artwork that depict Bible scenes. Print a new one out each Sunday. Enjoy it throughout the week and anticipate what next Sunday's picture will be.

This is just a starting place. I am sure you can think of other ideas that will be just perfect for your family. Have a blessed Sunday!
